He Urges All Good Democrats to Stand by David B. Hill.

MUCH DEPENDS UPON NEW YORK

The Writer Thinks That the Democratic Party Is in Danger and Advises All to Close Their Eyes and Support Hill for the Good of the Party-Tammany Is Bad, but Should Not Be Reformed by Republicanism-Does Not Think the Election of Mr. Hill Would Have Any Weight in 1896.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. of the Democratic State committee, gave out tonight for publicato Mr. Hinckley declining the latter's invitation that Mr. Hinckley act as chairman or as a member of the Demo-cratic campaign committee. The let ter is dated Oct. 6, from Roslyn, L. I. Upon receiving his refusal, Mr. Hinck-ley appointed John Boyd Thatcher chairman of the committee. The letter

I have thought over your request that I assume the chairmanship or accept membership of the campaign committee, and I cannot reverse the decision, which I expressed to you verbally, that I cannot accept either position. I wish, however, to assure you that this decision does not arise from any indisposition to assist in the campaign. I refused a similar position in campaign. I refused a similar position in the national campaign two years ago, al-though, as you know, I did not on that ac-count retrain from doing what I should to help the ticket. I desire to remain in the ranks. I am quite free to admit that if ever I felt inclined to break over the rule I have made for myself, it is now.

I do not wish to be misunderstood, and as I have been on other occasions, opposed to Governor Hill, I wish to express myself emphatically as to feeling a deep in-terest in the success of the Democratic nominations and will give a hearty Demo-cratic support to their candidacy. It seems there never has been a time when Democrats ought to sink personal differences and stand together for the principles and and stand together for the principles and perpetuity of their party as now. In 1892 the Democratic party was entrusted with all branches of the national government for the first time in thirty years. It was not an accidental victory, but upon principle and for a great nation's purpose.

This is the first election taking place since the party has made a perparent.

since the party has made a permanent record of its national policy in the legisla-tion of the present congress. A little reflection must show that the general pur-poses of the party as a national party are The Famous Anarchist Appears at this very time having their greatest test before the people. I might criticize as to details, as many do, the manner in which the party has during the last year discharged the trusts committed to it, but at this moment differences among Democrats are not being fought out; it is against the Republican party, our common enemy, that we are drawn up. While Democrats are making faces at each other, McKinley is being preached on the stump and in the Republican press and the verdict of the elections will be assumed to have been handed in upon this great national issue. nothing that a Democrat can do will pre-vent this. This state is the Keystone of the entire political situation. Defeat here will mean discouragement for Democrats and encouragement for Republicans throughout the country.

DISAFFECTION IN THE RANKS.

It is uscless, of course, to disguise the fact that there is a good deal of disaffection in the party ranks. It is to be said, however, that this is generally true of the Democraticharty, and that very fact is one of the great sources of its strength. I cannot quarrel with anyone for this feel ing and have myself antagonized on many important occasions this policy and assisted candidates in opposition to the party organization.

sisted candidates in opposition to the party organization.

But this is a partisan fight—a struggle for party supremacy. The lines were never more closely level. If the management of the Democracy is narrow I do not see that the Republican machine is any the less so, and if every Republican would be a machine victory it is now. The more liberal Republicans had shown a disposition to co-operate on a non-partisan basis with the anti-machine Democrats the situation might be different. But they have done exactly the reverse. Instead of rising above prejudice in an honest endeavor to perform the work of good citizenship they have given their undivided attention to the task of reaping partisan advantage from Democratic dissensions.

For example, it is not to be questioned that a large body of our citizens are dissensioned affairs by Tammany Hall. They are good citizens and they have carnestly desired to sale task differences and task. affairs by Tainmany han. They are good citizens and they have earnestly desired to sink party differences and unite in a non-partisan movement for broader treatment of our municipal affairs. What has been the attitude of the Republicans regarding the streatment of the Republicans regarding the streatment of the Republicans regarding the streatment of t the attitude of the Republicans regarding this situation. Have they been willing to disregard party lines in the settlement of local issues? If they had and been enforced, they would have said: "This city has nearly two Democratic voters to each Republican, and on any reasonable basis of co-operation in the interests of good citizenship should have a Democrat for mayor, our rights to see that he ocrat for mayor, our rights to see that he is a good man," but no. They want to de-feat Tammany Hall, of course, but only on condition that their machine shall take place of the Tammany machine—so they demand that the great body of Democrats through whose votes alone reform shall cast their ballots for a Republican.

THE APPORTIONMENT. This temporary wave of Democratic dis-sention is to be utilized by them to fix upon an apportionment which will permanently transfer the state legislative power to the Republicans. For ten 'years it is not to the changed. As the Republican machine controls absolutely the Republican in the state, it enacts a practical transfer of the state legislative functions to this machine.

If, in the presence of an enemy with such singleness of purpose as the Republicans display, we deem this the occasion to gratify personal animosities and work our antagonisms. Republican supremacy everywhere will certainly ensure. There are persons, I know, who are inclined to oppose Governor Hill on the theory that this campaign will have an important bearing upon the candidacy for the party two years hense. I wish to suggest to such that 1896 may be safely left to take care of liself. Eighteen hundred and ninety-two did and eighteen hundred and ninety-six will. Neither Governor Hill nor anybody else will be able to secure two-thirds of the vote at the next national convention un-If, in the presence of an enemy with bearing upon the candidacy for the party two years hence. I wish to suggest to such that 1896 may be safely left to take care of itself. Eighteen hundred and ninety-two did and eighteen hundred for governor by Massachusetts Democrats by acclamation. Charles E. Stratton was nominated for governor by Massachusetts Democrats by acclamation. Charles E. Stratton was nominated for governor by Massachusetts Democrats by acclamation. Charles E. Stratton was nominated for governor by Massachusetts Democrats by acclamation. Charles E. Stratton was nominated for dieutenant governor by acclamation. The rest of the ticket was made up as follows: For secretary of state. Charles A. Decourcey, of Lawrence; for attorney general, Henry F. Huribut, of Lynn; for treasurer and receiver general, James S. Grinnell, of Greenfield; for auditors, and the complex of the ticket was made up as follows: For secretary of state. Charles A. Decourcey, of Lawrence; for attorney general, Henry F. Huribut, of Lynn; for treasurer and receiver general, James S. Grinnell, of Greenfield; for auditors.

eminent qualifications for the performance of his dury to both people and party.

As to Governor Hill whatever may be an individual Democrat's opinion of him, the fact is that through no effort of his own he is the standard bearer of the Demoown he is the standard bearer of the Demo-cratic party in a contest which our oppo-nents have insisted upon making a test of party strength and loyalty. Individuals count for little in such a struggle and personal feelings, should count for less. A political party ad-vances or recedes as it carries or loses election. The result in this state paxt month is the most important between next month is the most important between 1892 and 1896 and any believer in Democratic principles who shall vote against the Democratic ticket will succeed only in dealing a blow in his own convictions. Yours truly, WILLIAM C. WHITNEY.

WORK OF FIENDS.

The Supporting Timbers of a Railroad Bridge Are Sawed, Causing Terrible Wreck.

TOMAHAWK, Wis., Oct. 8 .-- Train wreckers sawed the supporting timbers of the "Soo" railway bridge at Tomahawk Junction isst night and the engine of the early morning west bound passenger train went through the weakened structure. Fireman Charles Cottrell, of Minneapolis, was instantly killed, and Engineer Charles E. Dutch, of Minneapolis, was badly injured. The train was due at the junction at 2:18 a. m. It was wrecked in the same manner as that planned for the same train one week ago, two miles this side of Pren-

A cross-cut saw was stolen from the nearest tool house. The stringers of the treatle were cut in two, each stringer being cut in two places, the gap being supported by the rails alone. The train was running thirty miles an bour and when the engine struck the weakened bridge it went through into the Tomshawk river. The body of Fireman Cottrell was buried all day under the engine. The engineer had both legs broken and was badly bruised about the body, but will recover.

General Manager Underwood thinks the wreck was the work of some half-crazy individual and does not believe it was the doings of wreckers.

POLITICS CONDENSED.

Hill will open his canvass at Syracuse, N. Y. Thursday.

Spencer O. Fisher, Democratic candidate for governor of Michigan, declines to talk about the A. P. A.

It is said at Washington that Hill will soon place in the hands of Governor Flower his resignation from the senate. The American Protective association is fighting George Greenhalge, the Republican candidate for re-election in Massachusetts.

Ex-Governor Richard C. McCormick, of Arizona, was nominated by the Republicans for congress. He is a son in law of ex-Senator Allan G. Thurman, of Ohio. Senator Hill's friends in view of Presi dent Cleveland's proverbial misfortune at letter writing, are content that he should send Hill a good-sized check as a token of party fellowship. Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, blames his ill-health for his retirement; but there are those who believe the prospect of a Republican legislature has much to do with it.

Theodore Runyon, ambassador to Germany, is talked of as a substitute for Seuator McPherson, of New Jersey. Edward F. C. Young, the Jersey City banker, is also preminently montioned.

most vigorous campaign ever held in this district. WILSON AT CHARLESTOWN. CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 8 .- Wiliam L. Wilson was welcomed to West Virginia with enthusiasm. As the train drew into the town the music of the bands was almost drowned by the shouts of one thousand people. The little court house could not hold one half of the people who endeavored to crowd into it. Referring to the criticisms made on his London speech, Mr. Wilson said it was garbled. He did not, however, feel afraid to tell the people of West Virginia one thing, and that was that we were engaged in tearing down the tariff wall, and soon we would compete with Great Britain for the sea carrying trade of the world.

He did not hold that the present tariff law measured to the full extent of the necessities, but mangled as it was, it was much better than the old tariff law. Prosperity was returning, not with a rush, but substantial, true prosperity, gradually and permanently. He referred to President Cleveland, whose fate it was to have the tariff bill in hand when the clouds were lower ing and when depression in business, brought on by Republican mismanage ment was greatest; yet the new tariff is bringing relief, even if partial, to the people. Cleveland's name was the signal for repeated cheers.

MURDER AT ABERYSTWYTH.

North Wales Woman Suffocated by Her Brother-in-Law.

Special to the Scranton Tribuns LONDON, Sept. 29 -A horrible murder has just been unearthed at Borth near Aberystwyth, where Mary Davies, the wife of a sailor, was suffocated by Thomas Richards, her sister's husband. At first, death was attributed to natural causes, but the evidence now establishes the fact that deceased was suffocated with a bolster.

Richards entered the house of the morning, and in a most brutal manner held a boister on the poor woman's mouth until she expired. The finding of a £25 note at his house led to his arrest at Neath.

Deceased was a highly respected woman and had attended chapel the night of her death. Over $200 were stolen. Richards has been tried before the magistrates and remanded. He will in all probability be executed and swell the very small gang of murderers in
